- í X Graduate Dean's Report (Harold Pardue) Dr. Pardue gave an update on ACHE. South has added 3 new programs and 2 postriplementations were successfully completed. The Graduate School budget was shared. Enrollment is steady. Holistic admissions were introduced as a possibility to consider. Dr. Pardue anthatunced the support staff position for the undergrad research program may move to-tarfuel position and wilbe assisting with marketing efforts on behalf of the graduate programs. The delate gic Planning project is back on track (delayed by COVID) and irected at the expected substantiation in the number of graduating thig school seniors due to the corresponding decline in the birth rate apployee learners will be a Graduate School target student population. A workshop will be planned for January. The Talent Development Center is a progra to train high schoolseniors into local industry positions through their careers up to retirement. Local tech schools/community colleges are in partnership for certifications leading to filling jobs in the state of Alabama and locally in Mobile.
- î XEMP Update (Eric Loomis): Dr. Loomis gave an update on the EMP and that it was producing good results. If a faculty need assistance with the EMP regarding their programs, contact him. The proposed staff sharing would boost these efforts toward marketing the graduate school programs.
- ï X Interdisciplinary PhD in Chemical and Biological Engineering Degree (Th Charlos ser): Dr. Glover stated that he proposed program has successfully passed through the required steps to this point to gain approved raft overview was given and he further stated that our Engineering students have expressed an interest in this program, but have had to go to other institutions for training. The program would be of value to several disciplines. Dr. Pardue held an anonymous vote via Zoom and the program was unanimously approved Á]šZ (Œ] Ç ou v u v š š Z oš š Z À } μ Œ ] (Œ) Ç u w μ u Œ š Z Œ š Œ ] P v š] Ç š Z Œ 'Œ ) μ vš. ] o
- ð XUniversity Vision Statement (Harold Pardue): Dr. Pardue stated that the University is formulating a vision statement and has solicited input from ableges/Schools.
- ñ XGraduate Assistant Employment Status (Harold Pardue): Due to COVID this became an issumanden determined that graduate assistants should be treated as students and not employees. If the GA is grant funded the grant directives must be followed. A policy is being developed.
- ò XGuidelines forthe 3-paper model for theses and dissertations (Harold Pardue): Dr. Pardue stated that some graduate students are submitting a 3 (or more) paper or portfolio thesitismertation. Usually the format is an introduction, then the papers, then a conclusion that ties them together. The issue is that at tiroescathe of the papers have been published before a thesis or dissertation bimitted. Copyrights must be considered. Another issue is if errors are in previously published materials. Rights vary by journal or conference. A policy w be developed and presented to the Graduate Council. Dr. Migaud suggested an ombudsman be appointed to arbitrate if the PI and the student disagree on the type of paper the students withint.

- 7. Postdoc salary requirements (Harold Pardue): The NIH has determined that the minimum (not max) closest salary is $52,850.00/year. The University may have to back pay any post docs below this threshold getre the applicable grant. A policy is being developed by Dr. Chronister.
